ASSISTANT SECRETARY AND COMMISSIONER OF PATENTS
AND TRADEMARKS

Paper No:17

Serial Number: 09/387659

Filing Date: August 31,1999

1. A rejection based on double patenting of the "same invention" type finds its support in the language of 35 U.S.C. 101 which states that "whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process ... may obtain a patent therefor ..." (Emphasis added). Thus, the term "same invention," in this context, means an invention drawn to identical subject matter. See Miller v. Eagle Mfg. Co., 151 U.S. 186 (1894); In re Ockert, 245 F.2d 467, 114 USPQ 330 (CCPA 1957); and In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970).

A statutory type (35 U.S.C. 101) double patenting rejection can be overcome by canceling or amending the conflicting claims so they are no longer coextensive in scope. The filing of a terminal disclaimer cannot overcome a double patenting rejection based upon 35 U.S.C. 101.

2. Claim15-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as claiming the same invention as that of claims 16-22 of prior U.S. Patent No. 5,998,950. This is a double patenting rejection.

While the grammar and syntax may be different, it is not seen where a different invention is present within the claimed invention and that of '950.

15,18) Garage Door;

The instant specification and that '950 is clearly directed towards that of garage doors. Note discussion of figure 1.

Sending a command...of open, close or stop movement

Claims 16,20,22 of '950 state "sending a first motor control command...raising, lowering or stopping the door"

Checking to determine whether the command is being correctly performed

Claims 16,20,22 of '950 states "detecting a malfunction...movement not in accordance with the first motor control command"

Generating a signal

Claim 16 of '950 states "sending fault control signals..."

Claims 20,22 state "sending a second motor control command..."

Controlling barrier movement

Claims 16,20,22 of '950 state "motor control circuitry which responds to motor control commands...sending fault control signals to the motor control circuitry"

16) Stop command and checking to see if barrier has stopped

Claim 16 of '950 states "sensing door movement...after first motor control command is sent"

Claim 22 states "door should be stopped"

Page 3, lines 3-21, clearly state that the problems of the prior art are solved by sensing inappropriate door movement. The specification does not appear to provide support for other types of "detection".

17) Open barrier if not stopped

Claim 19 of '950 states "raising the door"

3. Applicant's arguments filed 1-14-02 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Claims in different applications need to be more than merely different in form or content and that a patentable distinction must exist to entitle applicant to a second patent. See MPEP 804.03

It cannot be seen where a different invention exists between the instant application and '950.

While some of the grammar, syntax may be different, it does not appear that a "distinct" invention is present.

Applicant states that it is the type of detection that is "different"

As stated above, page 3, lines 3-21 clearly set forth the instant invention as "solves the problems of prior art systems by rapidly sensing inappropriate door movement...".

Support cannot be seen in the instant specification for limitations towards other types of detection as the detection is the improvement over the prior art.

Art Unit: 2837

The deletion of common structural elements in the claimed invention does not further provide a patentable distinction. Clearly the detection of a malfunction in the instant invention, is the detection of rotation of the motor after a command has been sent. The instant invention and the '950 patent both determine this by rotation when none is supposed to occur or rotation in the incorrect direction. Applicant appears to state that any other type of detection would not constitute double patenting. It is not seen where any other type of detection would be present nor would applicant be entitled to any future type of detection, which may be discovered

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
